

Advance Components, headquartered in Carrollton, TX, is a master stocking distributor of high quality specialty fastener products. For over 40 years, Advance's mission has been to stock and distribute these specialty products only to other distributors, providing our customers the right products and technical support to achieve success.

Advance is able to provide this value by offering a core product offering of the best manufacturers in the industry. We are proud to stock and distribute our Master Authorized Product lines of A Raymond Tinnerman, AVK, Heyco and Johnson & Hoffman. Advance also offers complimentary specialty fastener lines such as Richco, Captive, Gripco, TRW, and our most recent addition, Electronic Hardware Company.

Helping our business partners improve their core competencies is vital to their success. Advance is able to accomplish this by having "smart" inventory immediately available and eliminating lead time/minimum order quantity issues, all the while offering competitive pricing at the "right" quantities. We also provide the industry's best customer service, product knowledge, and application support.
